

Unleash

Your Wild

Welcome, Wild Femme

We are Vancouver's inclusive boudoir studio committed to creating a safe space for all femme persons to connect with and celebrate themselves.

Our photoshoots are an experience for femmes to be witnessed in their truth, and to help positively shift your self-perception and enhance your confidence. Let's ditch the shoulds, the expectations, the societal standards of beauty and femininity. Together, let's decide how we want to express ourselves and how we wish to embody our truths. Let's declare our worth. Let us proclaim that we are more than enough.

Let's be Wild.

The Process

Step 1: The Consult

I offer a free consultation to all femmes interested in a boudoir session. We will discuss your inspiration for doing a shoot, what you are hoping to get out of the experience, and your vision. It's your chance to ask any questions you might have about doing a photoshoot before booking.

Step 2: Selecting Your Package, Location and Booking Your Session

Packages

If you decide to entrust me with your boudoir experience (and I hope you do!), I will help you select the package that best suits your vision, while respecting your budget. (packages and pricing are listed below)

Location

I provide photoshoots from a variety of locations, both indoor and outdoor, allowing for further creative expression for my clients. From forests and ocean front beaches, to luxury hotels and modern loft spaces, I have a list of preferred locations to choose from. Of course, I'll handle any and all reservations that may be required.

Scheduling Your Photoshoot

If you have a particular date in mind, I recommend booking as far in advance as possible, as my schedule -especially weekends - does book quickly. I periodically hold 'Pop-Up Boudoir Photoshoots' at different locations during specific dates, you are also welcome to choose from any of those pre-determined dates.

Step 3: Preparation

Prior to your shoot, I will send you a prep guide that will give you tips on preparing for your shoot. Prepping for your photoshoot can really be a fun, creative and healing experience. The process of getting ready - from hair and makeup, to manis and pedis - can all be a form of self care. Selecting your outfits is a form of self-expression and can be a very fun and illuminating experience. I'm here for you the whole process too, so if you need any assistance, I'm just a message away.

Step 4: Photoshoot Day

This day is all about YOU and we are going to have a great time while getting some stunning images. It's completely normal to feel a little nervous, but I promise, once you're in studio the excitement and fun will take over. Remember to eat that morning and drink some water. A photoshoot is a bit of a mini workout and you'll need the energy a meal provides.

When you arrive at the studio, we'll first get you into hair and makeup. Not only a great confidence boost, this is a great time for us to chat, human to human, so when it comes time to get in front of the camera, you and I are already feeling like friends.

Once you're feeling fabulous, we'll have a little check-in about your vision for your shoot, then you'll get changed into your first outfit. I'm going to help you with all poses; I'll give you direction on where to look, and what to do with your hands. I've got you. I promise I am going to make you look (and more importantly, feel) like the gorgeous, sexy, wild femme that you are.

Step 5: Image Selection and Purchase

After your photoshoot, I will do a “soft edit” of your photos wherein I will adjust your images to match my signature aesthetic. You will receive a watermarked digital album of these images so you can take your time to look at all your images and select the ones you want to keep.

Once I have your list of images, I will complete the editing to the specifications you’ve given. If you wish to order any artwork - an album, or prints - this would be the time to let me know.

If you need any help selecting your photos or artwork, you can reach out to me to book a viewing appointment and we can go through your images together.

Step 6: Editing

My editing process follows my philosophy about letting your natural beauty radiate. Beyond editing to achieve my signature aesthetic, I will always check in with you regarding your editing preferences. I do encourage you to allow for yourself to be fully seen, while also honouring your vision for the images. Cellulite isn't evil, scars tell your story and the body naturally creates folds when you bend. For any edits you do want, I edit at a micro level so as only to edit what “needs” editing, and allowing the rest of you to remain as you naturally are.

Step 7: Receiving Your Images

Once your images and artwork have been paid for in full, I will send you your digital gallery via email and order your artwork from our suppliers. Please allow 3-4 weeks for us to receive your artwork. Once I have received your artwork, we will schedule a time for you to pick up.
